WOMAN IS SUSPECTED OF ELEVEN MURDERS

Killed Her Brother, His Wife, and Others.

KALKASKA, Mich., June 11.—Mrs. Mary McKnight has confessed to the murder of her brother, John Murphy, his wife, Gertrude, and their three months old baby. The detailed confession of the woman made to Prosecutor Smith is as follows:

"I didn't intend to harm any of them; I did give the baby the strychnine. It woke up and cried while its mother was gone, and I mixed up a little strychnine in a glass with some water, and gave a spoonful to the baby. I didn't mean to harm the little thing at all.

"I confessed all to the Lord this afternoon, and I feel that he has forgiven me. I really didn't mean to harm any of them. When Gertrude came home and found the baby dead, she got awfully nervous. She came to me and said: 'Mary, can't you give me something to quiet me, something that you take yourself?' I said that I would, and I really didn't think that it would hurt her if I gave her one of the capsules. She had spasms right after that, and I suppose that it was the strychnine that killed her. I really didn't mean to hurt her though.

"Then John seemed to feel so bad about it, so broken up, that I often thought after Gertrude died that I would be better if he were to go, too. John was feeling bad one night, a couple of weeks after Gertrude died. He came to me and wanted something to quiet him. I had two or three of the capsules on my dresser, and I told him to go and get one of them. I didn't mean to hurt him, but I thought that it would soothe him, and then I thought that it would be for the best if he were to go, anyway. He helped himself. I don't know whether he took one or two. Then he went to bed, and by and by he called me. Mother came, too, and he began to have those same spasms. I suppose that the strychnine was working."

Eight other persons, beside the three to whose murder Mrs. McKnight confessed, investigation shows, have died in the past sixteen years under circumstances that, in view of the woman's confession today, are now thought to be suspicious.

PITTSBURG'S MAYOR
UNDER INDICTMENT

Accused of Illegally Dismissing Old Soldiers.

PITTSBURG, June 11.—William B. Hays, mayor of Pittsburgh, is under indictment, charged with a misdemeanor, and has furnished bond in the sum of $500.

The indictment was found by the grand jury and the specific offense alleged is the discharge of Samuel Moore from the city employ while Hays held the title of recorder. Francis J. Torrance, president of Allegheny select council and member of the State board of charities, is foreman of the grand jury.

Moore is an old soldier and was an official of the ordinance bureau of the city. On March 31, 1903, he, with a number of others, was discharged from the city employ by Hays. The matter was taken up by the old soldiers of the county and a test was made of Moore's case. Information was entered before Alderman S. J. Toole on April 30, and Hays was held for court in $300 bond.

The allegations in the suit are that the mayor violated the act of assembly of May 26, 1898, which forbids the discharge of old soldiers for political reasons.

The suit is being watched with keen interest by all veterans and their friends throughout the city, as there were more veterans than Moore who fell under the swing of the ax of the chief executive of the city, and on the outcome of this case those of other discharged soldiers hinge.

Mayor Hays' defense will be that the act is unconstitutional.

WEIGHS 250, FELL 50
FEET, NOT HURT A BIT

SYRACUSE, June 10.—Mrs. Anna Jenney, who weighs 250 pounds, fell fifty feet, crashing through a roof to the ground yesterday morning, and when picked up was uninjured. It required six men to lift her into the ambulance and she was taken to the hospital. But when she arrived there, not a scratch could be found upon her.

ONLY AMERICANS
SATISFY THE KAISER

BERLIN, June 11.—"It is only Americans that meet my wants," is one of the latest utterances of Emperor William circulating in army and government circles. The Emperor spoke these words recently, according to the "Tagblatt," while dining with the officers of one of his favorite Silesian regiments, and the thought pleased his majesty so much that he has frequently repeated it in other forms since then. It is pointed out that the visit of the Prussian finance minister, Baron von Rheinbaben, to the United States attracts unusual attention among the initiated, because of the Emperor's admiration for American energy and practical insight, and it is assumed that his majesty designs giving the minister larger tasks, for which his American observations will be especially useful.

REPORT OF ANOTHER
TURKISH MASSACRE

SOFIA, June 11.—It is reported that the village of Enidje, in the district of Adrianople, consisting of five hundred houses, was attacked on June 2 by Bashi-basouks, and the entire population, with the exception of two hundred men, massacred. The village was pillaged and the loot carried off to neighboring Turkish villages. The Bulgarian government has just contracted for the delivery of forty thousand rifles to make up the existing deficiency of arms. The shortage will be asked to vote the necessary credit.

TWENTY MAY HAVE DIED
BY A CLOUDBURST

BISBEE, Ariz., June 11.—News reached here late last night of a cloudburst near Clifton. A wall of water eight feet high rushed down Chase Creek, without giving the inhabitants warning. Several bodies have already been recovered, and it is believed the number of drowned will reach twenty. Wires are all down to Clifton.

DESIGNING CUPID GETS DESIGNER WATSON

LONDON, June 11.—George L. Watson, the yacht designer, was married at Putney yesterday to Miss Lovebond. Lord Dunraven and Sir Thomas Lipton were among the guests.

LIGHTS NOT SIGNALS
FROM THE MARTIANS

Local Scientists Laugh at the Recent Projection Theories.

The projection on Mars, recently discovered by Prof. Percival Lowell, at the Lowell Observatory in Arizona, and thought by some persons to be a Martian signal to the earth, was probably due to some cloud formation in the atmosphere of the planet. This is the explanation given by the scientists at the United States Naval Observatory here. The skies in the region about Washington were not favorable at the time for observations of the heavenly bodies, and the projection was not observed.

Similar spots have been observed upon Jupiter and Saturn and even upon Mars, but this projection was one of the largest ever observed upon that planet. The patch of light, Prof. Lowell says, was 300 miles long and 20 miles high at its highest point. Owing to the rotation of the planet it gradually approached the rest of the disk and finally vanished at 8:50 a. m. During this time the measures suggested that it was traveling north upon the planet's surface.

On May 27 it was carefully searched for at the proper time and place, and though the atmospheric conditions were as good as on the preceding day, nothing certainly could be seen, although the remnants of it were suspected about 5 degrees farther north than they had been the day before.

MATOS, CRUSHED.
ESCAPES BY SEA

CARACAS, Venezuela, June 11.—General Matos, the revolutionary leader, was obliged to fly the country after his disastrous defeat near Coro. Generals Riera, Penolosa, Salazar and Perdomo fled with him. They left Venezuela in a small rowboat and landed early yesterday on the island of Curacao in a state of destitution impossible to describe, after having been four days in reaching that island. The government troops captured nearly all Matos' army. This is the end of the revolution.

OLD NASSAU, ADIEU!
SAYS CLASS OF 1903

Cleveland Conspicuous Figure at Princeton Commencement.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 11.—Assembling on the steps of Nassau Hall, just as a hundred classes before them have done, the members of the class of 1903, Princeton University, last night joined in singing "Old Nassau."

As the strains of the old song floated across the campus, the air was picked up by students and citizens alike, and soon the chorus swelled till it could be heard blocks away. This was the last formality of commencement day at Princeton, and, as was remarked, was the last time the 234 members of the class of 1903 will join in singing the hymn so dear to the hearts of all Princetonians.

The graduates formed in a circle on the campus and were seated for the loving cup ceremony, one of the historic formalities. They drank to each of the 234 members individually, calling them by name. This parting scene was pathetic in the extreme, and caused tears to come even from the eyes of bystanders.

The annual commencement, the 156th in the history of the university, was held in Alexander Hall in the forenoon. Former President Grover Cleveland was a conspicuous figure in the academic procession, walking side by side with Woodrow Wilson, president of the university, and wearing the hood of doctor of laws.

WILCOX MUST SERVE
THIRTY YEARS IN PRISON

RALEIGH, N. C., June 11.—James Wilcox, the murderer of Nellie Cropsey, of Elizabeth City, will have to serve his sentence of thirty years in the State prison here. On his first trial he was sentenced to be hanged, but the supreme court gave him a new trial, because the spectators at the trial made a demonstration when Wilcox's lawyer asked to speak. On the second trial, in a different county, he was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to serve thirty years. This judgment the supreme court yesterday affirmed, in a long opinion, embracing thirty typewritten pages.

MITCHELL TO PRESIDE AT MINE CONVENTION

SCRANTON, Pa., June 11.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, will preside at the general convention of miners, which meets in this city next Monday morning. Mr. Mitchell will arrive here on Sunday night and remain throughout the convention, which is likely to last two or three days. It was not his intention to attend this convention, but the importance of the questions that have arisen makes his presence imperative. It is now understood that instead of electing Messrs. Nichols, Fahey and Dettrey as the members to represent the miners on the board of conciliation their appointment by the executive committee will be indorsed by the convention.

HOLDS HIS BROTHER UP WITH REVOLVER

SYRACUSE, June 11.—By the aid of a revolver John D. Gill, of Watertown, compelled his brother, Francis B., a lawyer here, to sign a paper agreeing to withdraw an answer to a suit brought by John, made him hand over $12, all he had; sign a check for $1,000, and agree to go to the bank to draw the money. Francis proposed that John go to the bank to have the check cashed. "No, you don't," said John. "You would step to the phone and stop payment on it before I could get out of the building." After the brothers went to the outer office the stenographer said to Francis B. Gill that a client wished to see him in another office. "I'll see him before I go to the bank," said Francis to his brother. Calling his stenographer into the office, Francis instructed her to send for the police. The arrest of John Gill followed.

GIRL SEEKS DIVERSION
AFTER DOOMING MOTHER

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 11.—Ida May De Kay, whose testimony convicted her mother, Mrs. Kate Taylor, of murder in the first degree, seeks diversion from the thought of her mother's condition in the death house at Dannemora by all means possible. Last night, in company with Miss Johnson, a New York private detective, and Mrs. James Taylor, the girl witnessed the drama, "Wife for Wife." She enjoyed it heartily. Miss De Kay had her fortune told by a gypsy fortune teller, who predicted for her a good future and said she was soon to receive a present of gold.

CHILE REEKS WITH PUBLIC CORRUPTION

Country Fast Losing Prestige in South America.

VALPARAISO, Chile, (via Galveston, Texas), June 11.—This country, which formerly ranked first in South America, is now going backward with gigantic strides. Embezzlements of public and private funds are of daily occurrence. The authorities do nothing to stop crime. There are deputies, former members of the cabinet, and contractors who, instead of being in jail, have received their high appointments. As a result of the judicial investigation into the scrap iron robbery from the State railways it has been discovered that the thefts embraced steel, brass, lubricants, and coal. The thefts were committed systematically, and a great scandal has been caused.

As the state railways have not been bringing in any dividends, affairs of state are in a plight, causing much concern. The railways have been run as a political organization, employees being selected according to their political ideas, relationship or friendship to the party in power.

Leading papers bitterly complain of the serious demoralization invading the country. The uneasiness prevailing among the working classes is but the result of the demoralization in the upper classes.

STRIKERS CAPTURE
CIGAR TRUST PLANT

KINGSTON, N. Y., June 11.—Six hundred striking employees of the American Cigar Company marched to the factory yesterday, broke into the building and compelled fifty employees who refused to strike to quit work. The strikers marched through the building, shouting defiance. The police were telephoned for, but were unable to clear the building. The sheriff refused to interfere until the police were unable to cope with the strikers. The latter were finally induced to leave, but later returned. After two hours the police drove the strikers from the building and established a strong guard. The strikers took possession under legal advice that they had a right to stay until the company paid them their back wages. The company says it cannot finish the pay rolls before Friday.

COMING TO THE THEATERS

Columbia—Columbia Stock Company in "An American Citizen."

The second offering of the Columbia company, beginning next Monday evening, will be the comedy in which Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott made their first combined success, "An American Citizen." The plot of this play is filled with much that is interesting, and it is relieved at times by broad, irresistible comedy. If "An American Citizen" did not already bear the stamp of public approval, the fact that it was made into a clever play by the adaptation of Lucette Ryley would in itself be an assurance of merit sufficient to attract the attention of theatergoers. It should prove a worthy successor to "Lord and Lady Algy."

"An American Citizen" is another play that is well remembered by the Washington patrons of the theater. It is in four acts, the story leading the characters from New York to Nice, during the Flower Carnival, and then to London. There is much patriotic sentiment intermingled with the plot, but it is never treated in a trifling, melodramatic spirit. The comedy will give the Columbia players opportunities for their best efforts, and the cast will include all the principals, Mr. Ormonde, Miss Cortelyou, Mr. Geoffrey Stein, Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Clagett, Mr. Leach, Mr. Post, Miss Atwell, Miss Butler, and Miss Sawyer.

Chase's—"Fra Diavolo." A noteworthy cast, headed by Dorothy Morton, Fred Frear and Hubert Wilkie, will present Auber's noted opera, "Fra Diavolo." The other principals will include Robert Broderick, the well-known basso; Frank Woolley, the comedian; Frederick Knights, tenor; Bernice Holmes, of the Castle Square company; Fred Urban, stage director, and others. Miss Morton ranks high among prima donnas, as she possesses the advantages of a fine stage presence, together with a voice of good range, power and melodious quality. She was the hit of Augustin Daly's "San Toy." "The Geisha," and other Broadway productions. Mr. Wilkie returns under special contract for the role of Diavolo, the bandit, as he stands today as one of the best living exponents of the part. Fred Frear will make his first bow this season to his host of admirers at Chase's, in the role of the comic villain, Beppo. Frank Woolley, who received most flattering commendation for his work as the lover-tailor in "The Serenade," will fill the other novel comedy part of Giacomo, the companion rogue of Beppo. The other principals will give the remaining roles careful and pleasing interpretation. New scenery and costumes will give the beautiful opera a modern look, and it is expected the forthcoming week will be one of the most interesting of the current season.

Lafayette—Berger Stock Company in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

The Berger company will next week present "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

This play is an adaptation from the story by Robert Louis Stevenson, of "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," published in 1885, and is a work of much originality and power. It is replete with incident, cumulative of action and significant in meaning. The play was planned and sketched by Richard Mansfield and made by Thomas R. Sullivan.

It is best known as one of the most successful vehicles of Richard Mansfield, and his interpretation was such as will always live in the memory of those who have seen it. Mr. Mansfield was able to interblend the angel with the demon, and thus to command a lasting victory.

It is to the assumption of this dual role that John T. Sullivan will next week bend his energies, and since he has already given evidence of distinctive merit in the portrayal of heavy parts, his forthcoming impersonation of Jekyll and Hyde has additional interest. The management has promised that the production will be commensurate with the best standards of the organization.

Lyceum—French Folly Company.

The attraction at the Lyceum Theater next week will be the French Folly Company, whose reputation for girls of the "Gibson style" and artists of merit has done so much to popularize this company. The performance opens with the laughable skit entitled, "Wanted—A Room," which is claimed by the management to be out of the ordinary. In the olio will be found such well-known people as William Collins, parodist; Elizer and Webb, coon shouters; the Baydells, in "Clarence's Reception;" Bartel and Buckley, duettists, and the Spencer Brothers, Irish comedy entertainers. The performance will conclude with a burlesque entitled, "A Trolley Party."

BAER'S LATEST PLAN TO NULLIFY STRIKES

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 11.—The anthracite coal mining companies, it is understood, have formed a new plan for crushing the United Mine Workers' organization, and methods for fighting the corporations along a different line from heretofore will be discussed at the miners' convention next week. President Baer's idea, it is said, is to keep the miners steadily at work in the dull summer months and store hard coal in enormous quantities. Over 10,000,000 tons, it is declared, are to be accumulated, and this supply is not to be touched when the fall trade sets in, but will be allowed to remain as a reserve source in case of strikes. The companies will then be able to supply the public with coal for months whenever the miners suspend work, and will not be caught short-handed, as they were last year.

IN BOX CAR THIS WEDDING PARTY RODE

OXFORD, Pa., June 11.—Cupid's resources would seem to know no limit, even if a puffing, snorting freight engine and a box car are found necessary to complete his plans. Rebecca Niblock and Joseph Jackson, well-known young persons and members of prominent families here, were scheduled to be married last evening. The best man and others of the wedding party reside at Kilton, some miles distant. A violent storm held up regular trains, and it was apparently impossible for them to arrive for the ceremony. The railway company, however, came to the rescue. Out the line went the lumbering, slow-speeded locomotive with a freight car. Into the latter the party climbed, and with the rain pouring in torrents the young folks landed in Oxford in time for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Robert Watson at the home of the bride.

ARMED HIGHWAYMEN
ROB STAGE COACH

REDDING, Cal., June 11.—A stage traveling between Weaverville and Redding has been held up and robbed by two masked and heavily armed highwaymen, who secured about $400 and some valuable watches. The robbers lined up the passengers and driver and searched them carefully. Valises were slashed open and two express boxes smashed to bits. The robbers were abusive.

FAT MEN AND WOMEN
MUST PAY A TAX

Swedish Cities Decide to Augment Treasury Receipts.

STOCKHOLM, June 11.—Several communities in Sweden have decided to introduce a tax on corpulence.

"According to expert investigation," say the city fathers, "a full-grown man or woman should weigh no more than 120 pounds. Parties exceeding that weight furnish proof triumphant that they are luxuriating too much in the good things of this world, that they eat and drink more than the average good citizen should."

"It is therefore decided to tax superfluous flesh on a progressive scale. An excess of ten pounds over the normal weight costs 10 kroners per annum, 20 pounds cost 25 kroners, 30 pounds more than the limit 50 kroners."

Needless to say there will be an exodus of Swedes to Maribad this summer, for the tax goes into effect next January, when all taxable persons will be weighed on the city scales.

SUNSTROKE INSURANCE

When the summer's heat gets about 90 degrees, you are liable to be sunstruck any time you are out in the sun, unless you take the proper precautions. Several years ago, the writer of this, who has spent much of his life in the tropics, thought he was safe from sunstroke. One day he collapsed, remained unconscious for five hours, and at times his life was despaired of. As a matter of fact, any person whose stomach and bowels are in bad shape in the summer time, is liable to be sunstruck in temperature that would be harmless under normal conditions. That's all there is to it. Stomach and bowels full of festering, fermenting refuse that forms acids and gases, raise the heat of the body and blood many degrees. Scientists have found that natives of the South Sea Islands, living on laxative fruit, bananas, coconuts, bread-fruit, have a temperature 20 degrees lower than that of white men who are careless about their food or their bowels. It has been found in years of experience, that a CASCARET Candy Cathartic taken at bed-time every night will keep the body clean and cool inside all day, and forms a safe and thoroughly reliable form of sunstroke insurance.

Out of the whole number of photographs submitted, The Times will choose each week a group of about six and reproduce them in its Sunday issue.

Three of These Will Be Awarded
Money Prizes of $5, $3, and $2 Respectively.

CONDITIONS—The conditions governing the awarding of prizes are as follows:

The prints submitted must be made by amateurs, readers of The Times, living within a radius of twenty miles of Washington, from negatives made by themselves and the result of their own work through all processes, and must be for the exclusive use of The Times in any way that it desires. Previous publication elsewhere will bar the print, and subsequent publication of a prize-winning print will not be allowed except by special permission of The Times. The print must bear the name and address of the sender, and it is safer to have prints mounted. No print will be returned.

Where possible, descriptive text may be sent, but this will not be considered in awarding the prize. The composition, artistic execution, and general attractiveness of the photograph will be taken into consideration in naming the prize-winner. Title of picture and name of sender should be written on the back of the print, and not sent separately.

The successful competitors for this week will be announced and their photographs reproduced Sunday, June 21.

Prints for the fifth competition must be delivered to The Times office not later than Saturday, June 20.
